

Choose Your Country's Theme

A country or people who worry and are always obsessed with safety.	A country of people with many sicknesses and struggling to be healthy.
A country of thieves and more thieves and maybe one or two good people.	A nation obsessed with cleanliness and tidiness.
A country of humans ruled by an animal(s).	A country of musicians or artists.
A country in a land plagued with natural disasters, famines, diseases and predators.	A nation ruled by a two-year-old child and/or where no one grows up.
A nation of fools, comedians and clowns.	A country that wants to be a secret.
A country that is struggling to sleep and does everything possible to help it sleep.	A people that always changes its mind and is never happy about anything.
A country that is at war with Mother Nature.	A nation that wants to work as little as possible—perhaps because they're lazy and/or they want to spend time doing other things.
A nation of exercise and health fanatics.	A country that wants to live without technology.
An extremely over-populated country.	A nation that wants to create Utopia or Paradise.