

Do You Trust the Media?

If you trust the mainstream media, then you trust an institution that censors any and all information that would expose our rulers, both political and corporate. It also censors any and all information related to the abject failure of our governments to produce healthy and happy citizens. It also promotes fear of 'others,' war, consumerism, dangerous technologies and medicines, junk and fake foods, millionaire athletes, alcohol, and so on. And yet, we trust them?

Now, as our economies are crumbling; now, as our food industry is crumbling; now, as a police state is forming and people are about to be treated like lab rats by an industry eager to profit from experimental vaccines, now, let us examine our sources of information and consider the critical perspectives of people risking ridicule to make unpopular reports.
